

PPG Overview

Public Policy and Governance (PPG) Program of North South University is an unique collaborative effort of North South University (NSU), Bangladesh, Department of Administration and Organization Theory of University of Bergen (UiB), Norway, Central Department of Public Administration (CDPA) of Tribhuvan University (TU), Nepal, University of Peradeniya (UoP) from Sri Lanka, and Royal University of Bhutan (RUB).

The PPG Program is offering an International Master Degree on Public Policy and Governance (MPPG) to the students from government officials of respective partner countries.

Vision:

To become a leading academic and research institute in policy and governance studies in Bangladesh and South Asia

Goals:

- To develop professional leaders in policy and governance through education and research
- To generate and disseminate local and regional knowledge on policy and governance

Missions:

- Providing quality education by national/international faculty members and practitioners
- Developing a competent research team with South Asian scholars and experts
- Building network and partnership with public organizations and other stakeholders